Foreword

I was astounded by the success of the first crop of Nudie ram lamb sires. At the auction on March 1 2023 they were lean and light, having been weaned late January from Pahiatua hill country.

But they proved to be tugging machines, surprising farmers with the number tugged and the very low dry rate, as low as zero percent.

And the lamb survival rate was excellent. The growth rate to weaning was better than other lambs, "like terminal sired lambs" was one comment.

To quote Royden and Liam Cooper, fellow members of the Alfredton farm discussion group: "We took a big plunge last year, buying five pure Nudies and eight Streakers. Perhaps they had something to do with a record lambing of 160%? It must have helped.

In late January we mustered 1,100 works lambs to dag, and were delighted that there were only 30 to 40 needing a handpiece. We will mate all the flock to Nudies or Streakers this year."

By 2026 Wairere will have 2,000 Nudie or part Nudie ewes. It has been a busy and expensive three years, but Nudies will provide a much needed outcross to the New Zealand Wiltshire gene pool, and a low cost way to farm sheep.

I predict that the New Zealand sheep industry will split, some farmers choosing Nudies, some staying with wool. Wairere will breed rams for both options.

AND, Wairere Streakers can provide the quarter Nudie option, sheep with wool, but very little dagging required.

Welcome to our 2nd release of Nudie & Streaker Rams.

The Ram Hoggets offered whilst sourced from the same 3 UK studs, they're totally unrelated genetically to last year's release.

As I sit & write this foreword 12 months on from our first auction it would be fair to say I wrote last year's with some trepidation.

Will these sheep work in the southern hemisphere? Will they perform in NZ hill country? Will they be a failure? Fortunately I am able to report it's everything but the latter.

Hands up, I was disappointed in our presentation of last years Hoggets for sheer size & condition however they went out into all parts of NZ performed & grew out better than we'd ever envisaged, thank you for the vote of confidence in Wairere.

I can report having cataloged this year's draft last week that the rams are well ahead of last year.

You may well ask, what's New Zealand's largest ram breeder, Wairere, who has such a vested interest in wool sheep making such an investment in Non Wool Sheep? I describe it a bit like James Shaw leaving the Green Party..... the reality is the Green Party left James Shaw! NZ farmers didn't leave the wool industry, the wool industry has left us.....with no alternative but to look at other options!

I'm going down the politics rabbit hole....Stop it!

The reality is that as a breeder of sheep genetics for the sake of our client base we've looked for an alternative to wool growing sheep.

Derek has stated hill country farming is under seige, strong turn of phrase, but interestingly Pita Alexander (NZ's leading agri accountant) made exactly that statement very recently.

Wairere is NZ's largest ram breeding operation of which Derek is the 3rd generation & we are still heavily invested in wool sheep.

But most of all Derek always looks at the financial numbers on the bottom line, they clearly show in our own commercial business aswell as our clients that we need to reduce farm running costs.

I would say to all of you, look at your own budgets and take out all the costs around harvesting wool, fly repellent and reducing some permanent & casual labour, now what does it look like?

Our progeny test results have shown that our Nudie cross lambs have outperformed our traditional bred sheep. Now there's an argument to say, that's just hybrid vigour, that'll account for some of it for sure, but it doesn't have an influence on the significant lower mortality. That aside we've never stated these sheep would increase your performance, the fact that they have at this stage is a welcome bonus, what we did say, is that they would reduce your costs, in that they have performed unequivocally.

Gross turnover with less costs = more Nett!

It's that simple!!

For those of you starting this journey & those of you continuing it, we look forward to welcoming you to our 2nd release of these exciting sheep.

PIERRE SYBEN

Foreword

Continuing on from a long history of innovation in sheep breeding, Wairere has taken the initiative and introduced these “Hair” sheep to the NZ market. We have branded them “Wairere Nudies”.

For ram breeders to stay in business, they must listen to their clients and provide what the market requires. John Daniell and following on, Derek and the Wairere business have been very successful in this regard. Bringing Nudies to NZ has been a result of listening to our clients and thinking hard about the future of sheep farming.

Change is constant and inevitable, and even though the history of wool runs deep in the blood of NZ sheep farmers, history doesn't pay the bills and at this time there is a need for change. You have told us that.

Our dream is that in supporting a move by some, away from producing wool, the supply /demand equation will be bought into better balance and the value of our strong crossbred wool will lift significantly. Working on increasing demand has not been successful to date. We all have faith that this increase in value will happen.

Wairere has invested a significant sum in bringing these sheep to NZ. This does not mean that we are moving away from our Romney roots just yet. The upgrading of the Nudie flock will be aimed at incorporating all of the traits and attributes of our Romneys that serve us so well. We will continue to concentrate our time and resources on breeding Romney sheep that meet the needs of today's market.

Ideally, what will eventuate, is a national flock in which a proportion of the sheep produce no wool at all and the balance continue to grow lots of high quality wool that is sought after and highly valued.

Sheep farmers and ourselves have been searching for a practical solution to the problem of insufficient value from the wool their sheep produce. We believe we have found a practical solution that will work.

There will undoubtedly be attributes of our Nudies that will require change. We have set up this flock with as diverse a genetic base as possible and will use every tool available to us to measure, select and breed Nudies that will meet the expectations of those who may choose to farm them.

Wairere is a full service sheep genetics supplier. We have the scale, resources, expertise and the willingness to bring about a change in the NZ sheep population.

Thank you for attending the auction and supporting this change.

Progeny Testing

In developing the Wairere Nudie breed, lots of questions have arisen.

How will they perform?

Will they survive in the cold?

What will they taste like?

All of these questions will be answered in time by commercial farmers taking Nudies into their operations and testing them under their management and environments.

Until that happens, we at Wairere have the best opportunity to provide some information and guidance as to how they might perform.

To date, we have measured every aspect of their performance and are endeavoring to provide unbiased and objective data. We have spared no expense in undertaking this work.

Outside of producing purebred Nudies by importing embryos we are committed to grading up a large number of Wairere ewes to grow our Nudie flock in order to meet what we believe will be a growing future need. In doing this work, using both AI and natural mating, we are producing a surplus of male lambs. The females are the valuable ones, no surplus there! The meat business is all about how many, how fast, and how good is it? Our PT is designed to answer some of these questions.

By taking approx 450 first cross Nudies (Streakers) and farming them in a common environment for up to 12 weeks, and by running a control group of Romney lambs with them, we have been able to objectively evaluate some of the meat producing attributes.

While our PT wouldn't technically stand up to a detailed peer review, it has ticked the boxes that are important.

We chose to process the lambs with Progressive Meats in Hastings as they have invested heavily in technology that enables them to measure IMF. We believe that in addition to measuring growth rate and carcass yield, IMF is going to become a more important factor as we pursue higher market value for lamb.

You will see from the results below that the Nudies have performed well. Bear in mind that they have a healthy dose of hybrid vigour which will have helped their results.

1st Kill	Count	WWT	LWT	ADG	CWT	DO%	IMF	GR mm
Romney	10	37.7	46.6	207	18.8	40.3%	1.48	5.8
Streaker	40	38.3	51.9	252	22.0	42.4%	1.83	7.7

2nd Kill	Count	WWT	LWT	ADG	CWT	DO%	IMF	GR mm
Romney	46	35.6	45.5	194	18.7	41%	2.01	7.0
Streaker	210	31.9	46.6	246	19.2	41%	2.28	7.8

We will undertake further sire analysis of the results which will help us to make decisions about which of the sires represented in this group of lambs will be of the most value in producing the next generation of Nudies.

Flock future developments – CARLA

There is no doubt that parasite resistance is of growing concern to sheep farmers.

At Wairere we are well aware of this threat, and in addition to the years of trial work undertaken with AgResearch and a constant level of commercial pressure on our ewe flocks, Wairere has made the decision to record CARLA in the Nudie flock.

CARLA identifies animals that produce higher levels of antibodies produced in response to ingesting parasite larvae. Those animals that produce more antibodies have a greater potential to exhibit resistance to internal parasites, and at a younger age.

While just starting this work, we believe it is valuable. CARLA is also recorded in the Wairere Romney and Facial Eczema flocks.

Facial Eczema

FE can devastate susceptible grazing livestock. The good news is that there is a genetic mechanism by which sheep that carry the genes for tolerance can be bred and that the trait is relatively heritable. At Wairere, our desire and intention is to have all sheep that we breed, having a level of tolerance to FE.

We are currently working on two mechanisms by which we can breed this trait into our Nudie flock. In addition, we have recently undertaken some continuous testing of a small number of purebred Nudies to establish whether there is any natural tolerance in their genome.

We appreciate that FE tolerance is important to many of you and appears to be a growing threat in previously non-FE areas.

Understanding Catalogue Information

BREEDING VALUES (BVs) & INDEXES

Please note - The S.I.L. data that accompanies this year's rams are only expressed from limited historical information. Once more historical information is further added into the system, the figures will be more reflective of the animals genetic merit.

Breeding values (BVs) and indexes indicate the value of a ram (or ewe) as a parent. An eBV is an estimate of the breeding value of an animal as a parent for a particular characteristic or trait. This means the BV represents the worth the animal can actually pass on to its progeny. BVs are displayed in the units they are measured in, e.g. kg for weight. Generally, a more positive eBV is more favourable. They allow a comparison between rams over particular traits.
